St. James's, March 29.

THE following Addreſs of the Captain General and Governor in Chief of the Leeward Iſlands, the Lieutenant General of the Leeward Iſlands, and the Council and Aſſembly of St. Chriſtophers, having been tranſmitted to his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, one of his Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been preſented to his Majeſty: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

St. Chriſtophers.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Captain General and Governor in Chief of the Leeward Iſlands, the Lieutenant General of the Leeward Iſlands, and the Council and Aſſembly of St. Chriſtophers.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

THE laſt Occaſion which we, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Captain General and Governor in Chief of the Leeward Iſlands, the Lieutenant General of the Leeward Iſlands, and the Council and Aſſembly of your Majeſty's Iſland of St. Chriſtopher, had, to approach in this Manner your Royal Preſence, was to implore your Protection againſt the Dangers we were then threatned with, by the Arrival of a powerful Squadron of French Ships in theſe Seas.

In the Midſt of thoſe our Diſtreſſes, we had no Reſource but to Heaven and your Majeſty; and the tender and fatherly Concern your Majeſty was pleaſed to ſhew for our Preſervation and Safety, by ſending to our Relief a ſufficient Naval Force, under the Command of Admiral Townſhend, now calls for all the Returns of Affection, Duty and Gratitude, which we can owe or pay to the beſt of Kings.

When we reflect on the Difficulties which your Majeſty has undertaken, the Labours you have ſuſtained, and the Hazards you have expoſed your Royal Perſon to, for the general Good of all your Dominions, in reſcuing our Liberties from foreign and arbitrary Attempts; and whilſt we ſee your Majeſty intent on the Welfare of your People, and employed in the glorious Task of procuring Peace and Quiet for all Chriſtendom, what an Abhorrence muſt it raiſe in the Breaſt of every Well-wiſher to his Country, to find your Majeſty's Attention to ſuch Purſuits diverted by a moſt unnatural Rebellion?

On ſo intereſting an Occaſion, we cannot ſuppreſs our Deteſtation of ſo black a Treaſon: Sure none but a few of the moſt flagitious, or the weak, (of which every Soil produces ſome) could have been engaged or deluded into an Attempt ſo deſperate, as that of involving their Country in Blood and Confuſion.

The preſent Rebellion therefore may juſtly be the Object of your Majeſty's Contempt, but in your loyal Subjects it muſt excite the higheſt Indignation and Reſentment againſt the Abettors of it; for it is the greateſt Inſult to our Underſtandings and common Senſe, to ſuppoſe us capable of changing the Proteſtant Religion for Bigottry and Superſtition, and our Liberties and Properties for Slavery and arbitrary Power, and to give up the beſt of Sovereigns for a popiſh Pretender.

But as Providence frequently not only diſappoints the Deſigns of evil Men, but by its unſearchable Workings makes them ſubſervient to the beſt of Purpoſes; ſo we hope and firmly believe, that this wicked Attempt, calculated by our Enemies for overthrowing the Proteſtant Religion, and ſubverting your Majeſty's Government, will prove an effectual Means for ſtrengthening both.

The Diſtance we are at from your Royal Perſon, prevents our joining your faithful Subjects of Great Britain, in a Tender of our Lives and Fortunes for your Majeſty's immediate Defence; fence; but we beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that we have as high a Senſe of the invaluable Bleſſings we enjoy under your Majeſty's Government, as thoſe who are ſhedding their Blood for the Preſervation of them.

That our Poſterity, to the End of Time, may boaſt of the like Happineſs under your Royal Deſcendants, in the Enjoyment of their Religion, Liberties and Properties, which we now rejoice in; may the watchful Eye of Providence ever guard your ſacred Perſon and Royal Family, and eſtabliſh the Throne in the moſt illuſtrious Houſe of Hanover.

The following Addreſs of the Commiſſion of the General Aſſembly of the Church of Scotland, having been tranſmitted to his Grace the Duke of Argyll, has by him been preſented to his Majeſty: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Commiſſion of the General Aſſembly of the Church of Scotland, met at Edinburgh the 13th of March, 1746.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Miniſters and Elders of the Church of Scotland, humbly beg Leave to take the Opportunity of this our Quarterly Meeting, to expreſs our moſt grateful Acknowledgments to your Majeſty, for your paternal Care of this Part of your Dominions, in ſending his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland, to command your Army againſt the Enemies of your Majeſty's Government, and of our Happineſs; a Bleſſing received with no leſs Joy than it had been earneſtly wiſhed for, by your faithful Subjects in this Country. The immediate and ſenſible Relief which the Preſence of ſo brave a Prince, hath given to all Parts of this diſtreſſed Country, through which he hath paſſed, cannot but diſpoſe us moſt heartily to congratulate your Majeſty on the Succeſs of your Arms under his Command, in driving theſe audacious Rebels to the remoter Parts of the Iſland. It gives us indeed, the greateſt Concern that theſe obſtinately wicked Men have been able to draw out their deſperate Undertaking to ſo great a Length; but we humbly truſt in our gracious God that he will in due Time perfect our Deliverance by the ſame glorious Inſtrument that hath ſo happily begun it. We moſt juſtly acknowledge it as one of the many Bleſſings we enjoy by your Royal Family, that it hath produced an illuſtrious young Hero, who hath ſet out ſo early and with ſo great Succeſs in the Paths of Honour; a Hero! remarkably diſtinguiſhed with all thoſe united Qualities of Wiſdom, Bravery, and Humanity which are the Fruits of a happy Genius, improved by the beſt Education, under your Majeſty's Eye, and which fit him to be an able Commander of the Britiſh Forces, and in that Character a glorious Supporter of our Liberties, and of the Proteſtant Intereſt at Home and Abroad.

That God may multiply his beſt Bleſſings on your Majeſty and your Royal Family, may defend you againſt all Attempts of your foreign and domeſtick Foes, and bleſs your Arms with Succeſs; that all Remains of a moſt unreaſonable Enmity to your Royal Perſon and Government may at length be entirely ſubdued; and that, after a long and happy Reign upon Earth, hath introduced you to the Poſſeſſion of an immortal Crown, Britain may be bleſſed with a perpetual Race of Proteſtant Princes of your moſt auguſt Houſe, who ſhall have the Glory of ruling over a free and happy People, and of maintaining the Rights of Mankind againſt Tyranny and lawleſs Power.——Theſe are the earneſt Prayers of,

May, it pleaſe your Majeſty,
Your Majeſty's moſt faithful,
moſt obedient, and moſt loyal Subjects.

Signed in our Name, in our Preſence, and at our Appointment, by William Wiſhart, Moderator.

The following Addreſs of the Univerſity of Aberdeen, having been tranſmitted to his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, one of his Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been preſented to his Majeſty: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King.

The humble Addreſs of the Univerſity of Aberdeen.

WE the Principal, Profeſſors, Maſters and Members of your Majeſty's Univerſity of Aberdeen, humbly beg Leave, from the midſt of a Country over-run by Rebels, and from a Town under their immediate Command, to lay this Teſtimony of our Duty at your Majeſty's Feet.

The Riſques we run, or the Hardſhips we may ſuffer in ſo doing, ſerve but to redouble our Attachment to your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon, and inflame our Zeal for our Liberties, Civil and Religious, which muſt ſtand and fall with your Royal Family.

With inexpreſſible Grief and Anguiſh of Heart we ſee ſome of our Countrymen (ſupported by the notorious Enemies of the Liberty of Europe, and Diſturbers of its Peace) engage in in ſo wicked and deſperate an Attempt, as that of blaſting our glorious Deliverance from Popery and Slavery begun at the happy Revolution, and compleated by the legal Settlement of the Crown on the Proteſtant Heirs of your Majeſty's Royal Line.

May Heaven preſerve us from relapſing into theſe laſt and worſt of Ills, by eminently proſpering your Majeſty's Arms, and after a long and glorious Reign, conveying the Crown of theſe Realms thro' your Majeſty's Deſcendants to lateſt Poſterity.

The full Enjoyment of our precious Liberties, under your Majeſty's moſt mild and legal Government, muſt at this Time ſecure to your Majeſty the Hearts and Hands of all who underſtand their real Intereſts as Men and Chriſtians: While we the Principal, Profeſſors, Maſters and Members of your Majeſty's Univerſity of Aberdeen, ſhall not only invariably perſiſt to propagate, in our ſeveral Profeſſions, the Principles of Liberty (ſo inſeparably connected with thoſe of Loyalty to your Majeſty and your Royal Family) but ſhall endeavour in any Character, and in the Face of any Danger, to approve ourſelves inviolably

Your Majeſty's moſt faithful and moſt dutiful Subjects and Servants.

Mariſhal-College, Aberdeen.

Sign'd in Faculty.

The following Addreſs of the Principal, and Maſters of the Univerſity and King's College of Aberdeen, having been tranſmitted to his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, one of his Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been preſented to his Majeſty: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Principal and Maſters of the Univerſity and King's College of Aberdeen.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

AS ſoon as a free Communication was opened by the Progreſs of your Majeſty's Arms, under the Command of his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland, we have chearfully embraced the Opportunity of approaching your Throne, with the moſt ſincere Aſſurances of our inviolable Loyalty and zealous Attachment to your Royal Perſon and Government, and the Proteſtant Succeſſion moſt happily eſtabliſh'd in your Auguſt Family.

The numberleſs Bleſſings, enjoyed under your moſt auſpicious Reign, ought to convince every true Proteſtant of the Happineſs attending a free and legal Adminiſtration; and poſſeſs their Hearts with the deepeſt Abhorrence of all Attempts to deprive us of our Religion and Liberty, and load us with the heavy Yoke of Popery and deſpotick Power.

We beg Leave, Great Sir, with Hearts full of Gratitude, to mention the high Proof of your Majeſty's tender Concern for the Safety of your People, in giving the Command of your Forces, ſent for their Protection, to your Heroic Son, whoſe Name is become a Terror to the Enemies of the Liberties of Europe Abroad, and to the Diſturbers of their Country at Home, and by whoſe Vigilance and Valour, under the Divine Conduct, we hope to ſee, in due Time, the wiſhed-for Period of our preſent Troubles, and the Reſtoration of our former Happineſs.

It has hitherto, moſt gracious Sovereign, been our Study, to impreſs the Minds of the Youth, under our Care, with loyal Principles; and it ſhall be our conſtant Endeavour hereafter ſo to cultivate the Seminary committed to our Inſpection, as that the Seeds of Rebellion may be extinguiſhed, and thoſe of Loyalty and Affection to your Majeſty may ſpring up and flouriſh among the riſing Generation.

That the moſt High, by whom Kings Reign, may long preſerve your Majeſty, for the good of all your People; direct your Councils and proſper your Arms againſt all your Enemies Abroad and at Home; defeat all Deſigns of the reſtleſs and deluded Abettors of a Popiſh Pretender; eminently bleſs their Royal Highneſſes the Prince and Princeſs of Wales, and all their Royal Offspring; that God, who remarkably protected the Duke of Cumberland amidſt ſo many Dangers Abroad, may preſerve him from the Perils at Home to which he is now expoſed, in the glorious Defence of your Majeſty's Crown and the Intereſt of his Country; and make him the happy and renowned Inſtrument of extinguiſhing the preſent unnatural and wicked Rebellion, and reſtoring the publick Tranquillity; that God may pour out his beſt Bleſſings on all your Royal Progeny; and that there may never be wanting a Proteſtant Prince, of your illuſtrious Houſe, to ſway the Scepter over us, are, and ſhall ever be, the ſincere and fervent Prayers of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt faithful, moſt obedient, and moſt loyal Subjects.

The following Addreſs of the Nobility and Gentry of the County of Aberdeen, having been tranſmitted to his Grace the Duke of Argyll, has by him been preſented to his Majeſty: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Unto

Unto the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Nobility and Gentry of the County of Aberdeen, met at Aberdeen the Eighth Day of March, One thouſand ſeven Hundred and forty ſix Years.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE the Nobility and Gentry of the County of Aberdeen, met as above, being now relieved from the Oppreſſion of the Rebel Army, beg Leave to embrace this firſt Opportunity we have had ſince the Commencement of this preſent Rebellion of meeting together, to teſtify our unfeigned Zeal for your Majeſty, and Gratitude to your illuſtrious Family, whoſe Acceſſion has added Strength and Vigour to our happy Conſtitution.

We can't but with the utmoſt Indignation, behold this Conſtitution, the Work of Ages, the Price of ſo much Blood, and the Crown of our gracious Sovereign, under whoſe Government we enjoy all the Bleſſings of a free People, attacked by a bold and lawleſs Invader arrogantly pretending a divine Right!

None, Great Sir, ſo truly taſte the Sweets of Liberty, as thoſe who from the continued Juſtice and Mildneſs of your Majeſty's Government were ſuddenly overpower'd and ſeverely exerciſed with exorbitant Exactions and French Tyranny.

When we ſee our Sovereign's Son, the Hope of the Allies, and the Dread of the Enemies of Great-Britain, at the Head of an Army compoſed of the beſt Blood of the Nation, advanced thus far for our Deliverance, through the Fatigues of a Winter Campaign, who can find Words to expreſs Sentiments adequate to the State of our Minds at ſuch a Juncture?

Permit us then to aſſure your Majeſty that our Lives and Fortunes ſhall be now and ever moſt chearfully employed in Support of the Proteſtant Succeſſion and Liberty of our Country, inſeparably annex'd to the Proſperity of your illuſtrious Houſe, and had we been properly armed in the Begiming of this Rebellion, our ſteddy and reſolute Behaviour would have effaced any Impreſſions againſt the County in general, the Crimes of a few deluded Men might have raiſed in your Majeſty's Breaſt.

May that Providence which has formed your Majeſty and Family, for the Support of true Religion and Liberty, grant you a long and glorious Reign, and that your Poſterity may continue to lateſt Times to be the Guardians of the Liberties of Europe, to reign over the People, and preſerve the happy Conſtitution of Great-Britain.

This Addreſs, whereof the Principal is ſubſcribed by the Nobility and Gentry, and recorded in the publick Record of the County, is ſigned in their Name, and by their Appointment, by Sir Arthur Forbes, Bart. Præſes to the ſaid Meeting.

Arthur Forbes.

The following Addreſs of the Magiſtrats and Town Council of the Burgh of Paiſley, having been tranſmitted to his Grace the Duke of Argyll, has by him been preſented to his Majeſty: Which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Magiſtrats and Town Council of the Burgh of Paiſley, in Common Council aſſembled.

WE the Magiſtrats and Town Council of Paiſley, for ourſelves, and in Name of our Incorporation, beg Leave, in the humbleſt Manner, to approach your Royal Perſon, with the deepeſt Senſe of Thankfulneſs and Zeal, to acknowledge your Majeſty's fatherly and tender Care of our Country, in ſending down his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland, and to congratulate the Succeſs of your Majeſty's Arms, under his Command, and upon his Appearance againſt the Pretender's Son, and his Rebellious Adherents.

We regret this unnatural Rebellion, begun and chiefly carried on by ſuch as ſhould be our Countrymen; we deteſt ſuch as would exchange your Majeſty's mild and lawful Government for a mercileſs deſpotick Tyranny, under a Popiſh Pretender.

This Corporation, tho' very ſmall, has on all Occaſions been moſt early and moſt remarkable for their firm Attachment to the happy Revolution, and the Proteſtant Succeſſion in your Royal Houſe; and it gives due Satisfaction to us, to reflect, that in our Zeal for your Majeſty's happy Government we have follow'd the Example of our Anceſtors.

We at this Time had the Courage and Zeal to levy and keep under Pay, a Battalion of Two hundred Men, modell'd into three Companies, and duely trained under proper Officers for each Company, who by direction of the Right Honourable the Earl of Hume, marched from this Place to Stirling, and there joined the Glaſgow Regiment; and aſſiſted for ſome Time to guard the Paſs at Stirling; and then march'd to Edinburgh to defend the Capital; and from that to Falkirk, where, in the late Action near that Place, they made no bad Appearance, and loſt eight Men in the Action, and ſeveral wounded.

This our Zeal and Loyal Behaviour, in marching our Battalion to Stirling, expoſed us to the Fury and Reſentment of the Pretender and his lawleſs Followers; who, on account thereof, impos'd on us a heavy Fine, and carried off two Hoſtages; for whoſe Redemption, we borrow'd and paid Five hundred Pounds Sterling, which is but a ſmall Part of the Loſs and Damage this Incorporation has ſuſtained by this unnatural Rebellion.

However, we moſt humbly beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty, that no Force, nor Art of any Kind, ſhall ever have the leaſt Influence to deter or divert us from our Duty or Allegiance to our rightful lawful Sovereign, and your illuſtrious and auguſt Family.

May your Majeſty's invaluable Life long be preſerv'd; may your Subjects be ſenſible of their Felicity under your mild and auſpicious Government; may all the Attempts of your Foreign and Domeſtick Enemies be defeated and diſappointed; may your Royal Progeny ſway the Scepter of theſe Kingdoms, and, after your glorious Example, maintain the Liberties of Europe, and Conſtitution of Britain, to the End of Time.

Theſe are the fervent and conſtant Prayers of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

Your Majeſty's moſt faithful, zealous and obedient Subjects and Servants, the Magiſtrats, Town Council, and Incorporation of the Burgh of Paiſley.

Sign'd in our Name, and by our Appointment, by our three Magiſtrats of the Incorporation,

Robert Fullton.

Paiſley, Feb. 28, 1746.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 27th Day of March, 1746.

PRESENT,

The King's moſt Excellent Majeſty in Council.

His Majeſty in Council was this Day pleaſed to appoint, Lancelot Allgood, of Hexam, Eſq; to be Sheriff of the County of Northumberland.

Venice, March 18, N. S. From Mantua we have an Account, that moſt of the Troops detached from the Rhine were arrived, and that both Cavalry and Infantry are very compleat, and in every reſpect in good Order, notwithſtanding the terrible Fatigues they have undergone. General Brown has under his Command, including the Huſſars, and the Corps late commanded by General Pallavicini, at leaſt 18000 Men, beſides the Garriſons in Cremona and Pizzighitone, &c. The Remainder of the Troops which are to come from the Rhine will join him by the 23d of this Month, but it will be ſome Time before the 16 Battalions that are to come from Bohemia can be here. Ten thouſand Men are poſted behind the Secchia. The Remainder, under the Command of General Bernclau, form a Cordon along the Po, and reach as far as Cremona. The Enemy have ſtill large Detachments in Guaſtalla and Reggio. They are ſending away from Milan their Train of Artillery, conſiſting of One hundred and two Pieces of Cannon, and Twenty-four Mortars. The heavy Pieces go to Pavia, and ſome ſmaller Pieces towards Lodi. It was given out, they intended to attack Pizzighitone, but their Diſpoſition ſeems to prove the contrary. An Account came Yeſterday from Verona, that a Body of Nadaſti's Huſſars had paſſed the Po at Caſtel Maggiore, and attacked ſome advanced Poſts in the Parmeſan, and made ſome Priſoners.

Aberdeen, March 21. Nothing has happened ſince the 19th, except that a Detachment of Kingſton's Horſe had purſued a Party of the Rebels, who had ventured to advance to Keith, but they fled with ſuch Precipitation, that there was no coming up with them.

Admiralty Office, March 29.

The St. Michael, a Privateer of 18 Guns, and 160 Men, taken by Vice-Admiral Martin's Squadron, is ſent into Plymouth, and brings Advice, that the Falcon Sloop, which was ſome Time ago taken by the French, and converted into a Privateer, is retaken; and that when they left the Vice-Admiral of the 24th Inſtant, he was in Chaſe of a French Man of War.

Notice is hereby given, That the Intereſt on the Sardignian Loan for Six Months, which becomes due on the 19th of April next, will be paid that Day at the Bank of England.

Admiralty Office, March 10, 1745.

My Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty having received Information, that Thomas Manſfield, late Maſter of the Ship King's Meadow, was ſometime in the Month of October 1744, murthered on board the ſaid Ship, in her Paſſage from Jamaica to London; and there being now two Perſons committed to the Marſhalſea Priſon, charged with the ſaid Murther; this is to give Notice, that if any Perſon or Perſons, who were on board the ſaid Ship at the Time the Fact was committed, will attend at this Office in order to bring the Offenders to Juſtice, they ſhall meet with all due Encouragement, and have Protections to ſecure them from being preſt.
